

Lecture series at the Yangzhou University, China

Prof. Zhang Wei, the vice dean of the architectural faculty of the Yangzhou University, invited me to give a lecture series dealing with German architecture and so, beginning in March, I will start lecturing with a small series of six sessions about current projects of architectural offices in Germany, nothing spectacular but real and hopefully useful for the students of this small faculty in China.

books and brochures wanted

Midya, our member in Iraq, is looking for books, brochures and periodicals dealing with the many aspects of architecture, urban design, townplanning and related other topics. Since there is hardly anything available in her home university (Salahaddin University of Aarbil), she also will take things that are older and/ or not any more in use in Central Europe. If someone feels to downscale his/her and/or university library, collect these items for her. Midya will come to Central Europe some time in July and would be more that happy to take back all donated paperwork.
